

Get up
and away
from the everyday and...

From going downhill to going down in history—
commemoratives exhilarate.

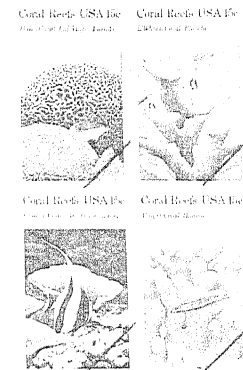

...on travel, the great outdoors, America—
commemoratives are a positive addiction.

Instead of being driven out of your mind with commercial interruptions,
why not let the commemoratives take you out of this world?

Commemoratives have the power to stir
the depths of imagination and thought.

...by not taking yourself too seriously.
So, lighten up with commemoratives.

Commemoratives can provide moments of relief
from everyday pressure and stress.

As with man's best friend, commemoratives
have a desire to please.
